LOUD IN PRAISES

OF MARYVILLE AND NODAWAY COUNTY'S CORDIAL RECEPTION.

SPOKE OF FINE COUNTRY

And Many Other Bouquets for Us by Governor and Other Speakers at Banquet Wednesday Night.

The banquet at the Elks club last evening, given by C. D. Bellows, a member of the state board of agriculture, in honor of Governor Elliott M. Major and his co-members of the state board and the other visitors here for that meeting, closed the day's entertaining program of good fellowship for that board. The board met at the country home of Mr. Bellows at 5 o'clock and transacted routine business. They decided on holding a meeting at Jefferson City, May 13-14, and to attend the state good roads convention to be held at that time. After their meeting the board was taken to the Elks club for the banquet.

A quartet composed of Misses Marie Jones, Nellie Wray and Prof. P. O. Landon and Orlo Quinn gave a number of selections during the serving of the banquet, and Miss Jones also gave two solos, which were much applauded. The banquet was served by members of the Elks club.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Bellows, who introduced George L. Wilfley, the toastmaster. After a short address by Mr. Wilfley, W. A. Blagg was called upon for the address of welcome, in which he kept his hearers smiling most of the time. He dwelt on the unity of the people here and what it meant, and then heartily welcomed the governor and the distinguished visitors. The response was made by P. P. Lewis, president of the board, in which he spoke of the excellent time they had, of the fine people the board had met, of the country which is known as the garden spot of the world, and of the fine roads which they had gone over that morning on the auto trip.

Mr. Lewis was followed by Dean Mumford of the college of agriculture, who spoke briefly of some of the things done by that college. John J. Wakefield of Mexico told of the very pleasant time had an of the hospitality of the people here. W. D. Smith of Princeton, a member of the world's fair commission of the state for the San Francisco exposition, gave a short talk, and said that he would be back in Maryville and Nodaway county soon for the purpose of gathering exhibits for the fair.

Governor Major was next called on and was heartily welcomed. He spoke of five measures that were passed during the last legislature that will be of great benefit to the rural communities, and also gave some statistics to show what had been done during the first year. He told of the law to aid the weak rural school districts so they might have an eight months term of school, also the one for the weak high schools, the law for the consolidated rural high schools, so the farm boy and girl may have the same advantages as those in the city, and also the one for the consolidated rural schools. Governor Major spoke very flatteringly of Nodaway county and Maryville, and also of the Normal school, and of the excellent people in this county. The speech of the governor was a brief one and was given the closest attention.

Following Governor Major, talks were made by Jewell Mayes, J. H. Brayton, M. V. Thralls, E. L. Newlon, N. H. Gentry, C. M. Barnes, Chris Hikle, W. D. McKee, J. Kelly Wright, E. C. Bennett, John I. Case and George W. Schweich. All of the visitors spoke of the cordial reception and entertainment, and also of the fine country we had here. The good roads that were gone over Wednesday morning on the auto tour were also mentioned.

The members of the board of agriculture were well pleased with Maryville and Nodaway county and also the genuine hospitality of our people. Many were the remarks that were heard from every one of the visitors on the hearty welcome. The purpose of the state board meeting was more for a get-acquainted meeting and good fellowship and to see Nodaway county. Mr. Bellows secured the meeting for Maryville and deserves great credit as every one of the members are loud in their praise of Mr. Bellows as host and of the cordial reception of Maryville and Nodaway people.

At the close of the banquet Mr. Bellows called on Hubert Corken, Dale Thompson and Grant Gates to arise so the diners might see the winners of the county corn show, and also the winners of the state corn show. The boys were warmly applauded. Corken is from Burlington Junction, and he won the acre-yield contest, his yield being 109 bushels. Thompson lives north of Maryville, and he won first for the best ten ears of corn, while Gates is from Ravenwood and was second in the acre-yield contest.

THE GRIFFEY WILL

ESTATE VALUED AT $50,000 TO MOTHER AND CHILD.

NOTHING TO HUSBAND

In the Will of Mrs. Jessie Scott Griffey —Rumor Has It That It Will Be Contested.

The will of Mrs. Jessie Scott Griffey, who died a few weeks ago, was filed in probate court Wednesday. A few days before letters of administration were taken out by John T. Griffey, the husband, but since the will was produced the letters of administration will be cancelled.

The estate is a big one. Beside $15,000 in personal property, there is a great deal of real estate. To her mother, Mary J. Scott, is given the piano, bookcase, dresser, silverware, clothing, books and all household furniture and household and personal effects. The rest and remainder of the property, both real and personal and mixed of whatever kind, is left to the Gillam-Jackson Loan and Trust company of Maryville to be held in trust for the use and benefit of her one child and for the use and benefit of her mother, so long as she may live; that is, that said trustee shall pay over yearly the net income derived from said trust estate as follows: Three-fourths to her mother and one-fourth to her child until she is 25 years old, and at that time the estate to be given to her child.

The Gillam-Jackson Loan and Trust company was named as executor of the estate. The will was written April 11, 1914, and was witnessed by J. F. Colby and Martin A. Lewis.

It is rumored that the will may be contested by the husband.

AT TELEPHONE MEETING.

H. C. Todd of This City Says Private Phone Lines Best.

H. C. Todd, manager of the Hanamo Telephone company of this city, is in Kansas City in attendance at the annual meeting of the Missouri Telephone association. Mr. Todd, who is director of the National Independent Telephone association, is quoted by today's Kansas City Times as saying that he doesn't believe in government ownership of telephones.

"Under the American system of private ownership the telephones of this country are twice as efficiently managed and have three times the number of subscribers as in European countries where government ownership largely prevails. There is a still greater future before the telephone systems of America," said Mr. Todd.

Road Case Continued.

The road case for a road between Andrew and Nodaway counties in Hughes township was continued until the next term of county court. The petitioners want a road a mile and a half in distance and to be on the county line. The court ordered the surveyor to survey and mark out the road between Nodaway and Gentry counties, near Ravenwood. The road is a mile and a fourth in distance and also on the county line.

Mrs. James Stewart went to Barnard Thursday morning on a visit to relatives.

John Fields, cashier of the Barnard State bank, was in Maryville Wednesday.

"MISTRESS MARY"

TO BE GIVEN AT EMPIRE ON MAY 19 AND 20.

FOR 20TH CENTURY CLUB

Over One Hundred of Our Young People to Take Part—The Story of the Play and the Cast.

"Mistress Mary," the pastoral opera in three acts to be presented at two performances, May 19 and 20, at the Empire theater, promises to be one of the best local productions ever seen here. Miss Margaret R. Martin of Chicago, who is the author of the book and music, has been in Maryville for several weeks directing the rehearsals of the play, which is to be given under the patronage of the Twentieth Century club.

Over one hundred young people will appear in the cast, and a partial list of those taking principal parts are:

Mistress Mary, Hazel Smith.
Merrie Bell, Amy Clark.
Betty Blue, Margaret Chilton.
Silverwings, Doris Goforth.
Sallie, Katherine Carpenter.
Minnie, Gertrude Wright.
Boy Blue, Harold Staples.
Tom, Dick and Harry, Glenn Goff, Clyde Hutton and Jesse Miller.
Postman, Paul Thompson.
Guardian, Mr. H. J. Becker.
Tony, Vern Pickens.

The Lambs chorus will no doubt prove to be one of the favorite ones of the entire production, and the small lads comprising this chorus are:

Willie, Forrest Holland.
Fluffy Ruffles, Donald Herndon.
Billiekins, Burdette Yeo.
Teddy R., William Gaugh.
Mignonette, Townsend Godsey.
Clover Blossom, Harold Miller.
Toddles, Robert Arnett.
Tiddledywinks, Donald Bellows.

The personnel of the entire cast will be ready to announce in a few days. A story of the opera follows.

The scene of act one of "Mistress Mary" is laid at Happy Valley Farm, owned by Madam Blue, and managed by her son, Boy Blue, who is a progressive rancher, more or less envied for his great success in sheep raising. He is in love with Mistress Mary, his head shepherdess, who is also his adopted sister, having been found by Mme. Blue when a baby, apparently a nameless waif. In the first act a chorus of Shepherds are refreshing themselves at a spring near the homestead when the postman arrives. He exchanges gossip with them, distributes the mail, and Boy Blue disperses them to the various duties of preparing for the Blue County Sheep Show, which is to be held at the farm the next day. Mary receives a letter telling her of her parentage and inheritance of a large fortune. She teases Boy Blue, and will not let him see the letter, then flirts openly with Tom, the "Black Sheep," a rival sheep rancher, who later finds this letter and determines to win her for his wife. Boy Blue calls a final "dress rehearsal" of his Trained Lambs, whose performances are the wonder of the county. This rehearsal proves an utter failure and the curtain descends upon general despair.

In the second act the scene is a forest on Happy Valley Farm at midnight. The Will o' Wisps dance, flashing their lanterns about, the Frog Orchestra holds a rehearsal, finally breaking up with a rollicking game of leap-frog. The Katydids sing, and the Owl hoots. Mary comes down out of an old hollow tree where she has been hiding, and tells her dream and its strange warning. Again she hears a strain of Boy Blue's song, and seems to realize her love for him, now that he is threatened with some unknown catastrophe. From her hollow tree she hears the three rival Shepherds. Tom, Dick and Harry, plotting to upset all Boy Blue's plans by giving his Trained Lambs a stupefying drug. The Wood Sprites also overhear this plot, and after the Shepherds leave the woods the Sprites appear to Mary and give her a Magic Censer, which shall revive the Lambs at the proper time. Mary is delighted and joins the fairies in a gay dance.

Act three opens on the upper meadow, en fete, the morning of the County Show. Boy Blue, tired out with the night's watch, has fallen asleep against a haystack. He is awakened by Mary, his sister Betty and her guest, Merrie Bell, who lead him a chase about the haystack, and finally run off without getting a glimpse of them. The Shepherd Maids tell him that the Trained Lambs are in a deadly stupor from which nothing can arouse them, and in the midst of their despair the neighboring Shepherds, villagers and farming people arrive, and the dancing and festivities begin. Boy Blue calls for his Trained Lambs, who are dragged in, still in a stupor, by the disconsolate Shepherd Maids. Nothing avails to revive the Lambs, and the situation is desperate when Mary enters with the Magic Censer, which "works like a charm," and the performance of the Lambs is a brilliant success. Mary reveals the conspiracy, and the rival Shepherds, Tom, Dick and Harry, are disgraced. Betty and Merrie Bell plead for them, and they are forgiven. Then Mary's guardian announces her name and good fortune, and she plights her troth to Boy Blue.

DAN BAKER A CANDIDATE.

Files Late Wednesday Afternoon for Recorder—Is Well Known Over the County.

Dan R. Baker, editor of the Skidmore New Era and the Graham Record, filed Wednesday with County Clerk George W. Demott as a candidate for recorder, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 4. Mr. Baker is well known over the county, and it is predicted that he will win.

Mr. Baker is a native of Nodaway county and was born two miles south of Skidmore, July 1, 1864. He secured his early education in the public schools, and also attended Amity college, at College Springs, Ia., and the Southwestern normal school at Shenandoah, Ia. On completing his education he engaged in teaching school, and for two years was principal of the schools at Elmo. He became connected with the Elmo Register in an editorial capacity, in which he was engaged for the following five years, at the end of which period he engaged in the insurance business at Maryville for about eighteen months. He was then chosen to the position of cashier of the Skidmore bank, to which he gave three years of efficient service. At the end of that time he relinquished the position, and going to St. Louis he became bookkeeper in the office of the Willard Case Hardwood Lumber company, where he remained until the spring of 1905, when he was sent by the company to Portland, Ore. He represented the interests of the company there two years and was then transferred to San Francisco until 1908, when he returned to Nodaway county and purchased the Skidmore New Era and established the Graham Record. Mr. Baker is an able newspaper man, and his papers are always welcomed.

AGREES TO MAKE A NUMBER OF IMPROVEMENTS.

FLOOR AND SIDEWALKS

Also to Raise Grade Over Track on North Depot Street—New Crossings Over Burlington Tracks.

The Wabash railroad, according to Mr. Greenland of Moberly, superintending engineer, will make a number of improvements which the city has been after for some time. Mr. Greenland was in Maryville Wednesday and was in conference with Mayor U. S. Wright. He came here to make a report and also recommendations of what the company should do.

Mr. Greenland's recommendations are that the Wabash refloor their bridge on Mulberry street with a new floor, to build sidewalk approaches to that bridge, and on Walnut street to do away with the steps on the north side of the railroad track and make it a sloping grade for a sidewalk. One important recommendation of Mr. Greenland is for the raise of the grade for twenty feet back over the Wabash track on North Depot street, so as to do away with the steep incline as it is now.

The report will be sent in, and it is expected that the work will be done within the near future.

Mayor Wright has also been after the Burlington for new crossings over their tracks on East First street, and has received word that two new crossings will be built just as soon as they can get to it, probably within the next month or so.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Instructions Are Sent to Various Commanders in State by Adjutant-General John B. O'Meara.

Adjt-General John B. O'Meara Wednesday gave out information to the several commanders of the National Guard relative to the organization of the National Guard in case there should be a call by the United States.

Each regiment of infantry will consist of three battalions of four companies each, with 150 men to each company. There will be five regimental officers, five battalion and staff officers and twenty-eight band members, making a total of 1,836.

In Missouri there are five regiments which would make about 10,000 men for the service in case there was a call to move. The officers are requested to recruit their companies up to the required limit.

The order issued Wednesday is regarded as a preparation or expectation of a call for service in Mexico.

The adjutant-general made known his instructions by means of a circular letter forwarded to each station where there are National Guard branches. He suggested a recruiting detail for each company, one sergeant and one corporal, and in addition two privates for each battalion and one sergeant, two corporals and twelve privates for each regiment. Such a suggestion is in keeping with regular army rules governing the formation of military bodies.

The adjutant-general says in part: "This information received from the chief of the division of military affairs is furnished for your guidance in case it is necessary to call out the organized militia of the state into the service of the United States and to recruit it full war strength. All organizations, unless otherwise specified, will be recruited to the statutory strength."

This order is in keeping with a similar one issued by the war department several days ago.

HELP FOR RURAL SCHOOLS.

Missouri Superintendents to Consider County Unit Plan.

The county superintendents of the state convened May 4 in annual convention at Jefferson City for a general discussion of the educational situation in Missouri. Rural education received the greatest share of attention. In general, the cities are pretty well supplied with high schools and high school facilities, but there are many rural sections entirely isolated from secondary education.

Many county superintendents in the state and many widely known educators were present. County Superintendent Oakerson was in attendance. The work of advancing rural education has not only been the subject of some wholesome legislation in the recent past, but the state teachers' association, the state university and the state normal schools all have been working in the same direction. So strong has the move for bettering educational facilities in the rural districts grown that even the politicians have commenced taking notice and trimming their sails accordingly.

What is known as the county unit system has been indorsed generally. It provides for a county board to look after the various country schools very much as the county courts are presumed to look after the various road districts and help those least able to help themselves. A special committee, composed of Dr. W. W. Charters of the state university, J. A. Robeson of Liberty, J. T. McDonald of Cape Girardeau, Miss Frankie Connell of Hannibal, assistant state superintendent of public schools, submitted a report favoring the county unit.

This system really means that the county must vote as a whole on a school tax and a board apportion the same among the various districts. In this way a weak district could be helped by the stronger ones. It is stated that this system would shortly place a high school within six miles of every child in the state of Missouri. Twelve states already have adopted the county unit system.

W. C. Frank left Thursday morning for Kansas City.

An organ recital of nuptial numbers was played by Miss Hilda Lahr. Miss Lahr also accompanied Miss May Corwin, who sang D'Hardelot's "Because" and "O Promise Me," by DeKoven. Miss Lahr played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bridal party, Schumann's "Traumerei" and "Melody of Love," by Engelman, during the ceremony, and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

The bride looked very winsome in a handsome suit of blue crepe with which she wore a white lace waist. She had a hat and gloves to match, and wore a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses. Miss Grace Sturm was her sister's bridesmaid, and was gowned in a tango colored suit. She wore a hat of white lace with light blue streamers and had a corsage bouquet of white sweet peas. Mr. Funk was attended by Mr. Lawrence Schumacher as best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Funk left soon after the ceremony in a car for Arkoe, where they boarded the train for a short wedding trip. They were met at Arkoe by members of the family who had followed them in a car, and a party of friends went down on the morning train to administer the customary shower of rice. Their trunk and other pieces of baggage had been properly decorated at the station here with old shoes and labels of all descriptions. WEDDING AT WHITE HOUSE

Miss Eleanor Wilson and Secretary McAdoo Marry.

FEW OFFICIALS ARE PRESENT.

Ceremony in Blue Room is Simple Affair—No Press Representatives. Bracelet of Diamonds Set in Platinum Senate's Gift to Bride.

Washington, May 7.—The White House was the scene of another wedding when Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president, and Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo were married today.

The affair was simple and private, the only officials present being the vice president and members of the cabinet. There were no newspaper representatives present, as at previous weddings. The wedding company comprised less than a hundred.

Rev. Sylvester W. Beach of the First Presbyterian church at Princeton, N. J., who performed the ceremony, officiated at the Wilson-Sayre wedding at the White House. President Wilson gave away the bride and the groom was attended by some of his near friends as groomsmen and best man.

Miss Wilson's six girl chums, who would have been her bridesmaids had the wedding been an elaborate one, were guests at the White House. They are: Miss Helen Hunter of Portsmouth, Va.; Miss Henrietta Stadelman of Wilmington, Del.; Miss Marjorie Brown of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Susan Fine and Miss Elizabeth Duffield of Princeton, N. J., and Mrs. Charles Kellogg of Athens, Pa.

The ceremony took place in the Blue room, the scenee of so many gala events, with its handsome furnishings, and the profusions of flowers which the White House conservatory yields.

Bride is Tall and Slender.

Both of the contracting parties to the wedding have become well known here during the present administration. Mrs. McAdoo is the brunette of the Wilson daughters, twenty-four years old, with such an expressive face that most people call her handsome. She is tall and slender, her head is well shaped, her eyes are blue, and when she smiles—or better still, when she laughs, which is often—she shows her fine teeth. Her hair is a shade darker than her mother's and she wears it in a coil wound round her head. She follows the modes in dress, without exaggeration.

The bride was born in Middletown, Conn., where her father was a professor at Wesleyan university. At fifteen years of age she went to Raleigh, N. C., to a boarding school. Later on, while her sister, Margaret, went in seriously for vocal study, and another sister was engaged in social settlement work in the Kensington (Pa.) mill district, the bride began her art studies in Philadelphia, inheriting her ability and taste in that direction from her mother.

Fond of Outdoor Life.

Life at the capital opened up a program of events which the bride has engaged to the fullest. Most of the White House week-end guests have been former associates of the Wilson girls and have joined in their social activities here. The White House tennis court, famous during the Roosevelt regime, fitted in perfectly in the Wilson girls' home pleasure scheme. The bride plays a good game of tennis, though equally devoted to horseback riding. She is also fond of walks, often joining the president in his jaunts, although her walking partner in the last spring has been her future husband. Secretary McAdoo has tramped with her many afternoons after his office hours through the uptown streets and suburbs.

Bridegroom is Fifty.

The bridegroom, Secretary William G. McAdoo, was born in Marietta, Ga., fifty years ago. He was only twenty-one when admitted to the bar, after his studies at the University of Tennessee. He practiced his profession in Chattanooga for eight years, then moved to New York. There he conceived the project with which his name is identified—the Hudson river tunnel system, linking New York and Jersey City. Mr. McAdoo was president of the system from 1902 to 1913.

Mr. McAdoo was one of the "original Wilson men," and as vice chairman of the Democratic national committee and as acting chairman during much of the 1812 campaign, the acquaintance between the two, fated to be bound together later by family ties, has had no breaks from its inception. Mr. McAdoo's first wife died about two years ago. She was Sarah Houston Fleming of Chattanooga, Tenn. Of his six children, three sons and three daughters, the two oldest are married.

Secretary McAdoo is both young in appearance and in temperament. He goes in for all sports. He rides, plays tennis, and his manner with his sons and daughters is quite like that of a big brother. When he began the last winter to go out with his daughter, Miss Nona, his attentions to her and to Miss Eleanor Wilson seemed just the same to the casual observer.

Senate's Wedding Gift.

Gifts from friends continued to arrive. The senate's wedding gift, a bracelet of diamonds set in platinum, costing $1,000, was sent to the White House, with a letter from Senator Martine, chairman of the committee selected to choose the present.

"My Dear Miss Wilson," the senator wrote, "on behalf of the senate of the United States, I have the pleasure to present to you the accompanying gift. We tender our best wishes to you for a long and happy life."

The New Jersey congressional delegation sent to the White House its gift, a silver serving tray, engraved in rose, bearing the initials "E. R. W."

Hopkins Wants a Rest Room.

Hopkins is after a rest room, and it is now planned to ask the city to donate the lots just north of the Ewing barber shop on which can be erected a building fully adequate to meet every requirement. With city water the sanitary condition is now easily solved, and it is thought $1,000 or possibly less will build and equip the room very nicely.

LOUD IN PRAISES

OF MARYVILLE AND NODAWAY COUNTY'S CORDIAL RECEPTION.

SPOKE OF FINE COUNTRY

And Many Other Bouquets for Us by Governor and Other Speakers at Banquet Wednesday Night.

The banquet at the Elks club last evening, given by C. D. Bellows, a member of the state board of agriculture, in honor of Governor Elliott M. Major and his co-members of the state board and the other visitors here for that meeting, closed the day's entertaining program of good fellowship for that board. The board met at the country home of Mr. Bellows at 5 o'clock and transacted routine business. They decided on holding a meeting at Jefferson City, May 13-14, and to attend the state good roads convention to be held at that time. After their meeting the board was taken to the Elks club for the banquet.

A quartet composed of Misses Marie Jones, Nellie Wray and Prof. P. O. Landon and Orlo Quinn gave a number of selections during the serving of the banquet, and Miss Jones also gave two solos, which were much applauded. The banquet was served by members of the Elks club.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Bellows, who introduced George L. Wilfley, the toastmaster. After a short address by Mr. Wilfley, W. A. Blagg was called upon for the address of welcome, in which he kept his hearers smiling most of the time. He dwelt on the unity of the people here and what it meant, and then heartily welcomed the governor and the distinguished visitors. The response was made by P. P. Lewis, president of the board, in which he spoke of the excellent time they had, of the fine people the board had met, of the country which is known as the garden spot of the world, and of the fine roads which they had gone over that morning on the auto trip.

Mr. Lewis was followed by Dean Mumford of the college of agriculture, who spoke briefly of some of the things done by that college. John J. Wakefield of Mexico told of the very pleasant time had an of the hospitality of the people here. W. D. Smith of Princeton, a member of the world's fair commission of the state for the San Francisco exposition, gave a short talk, and said that he would be back in Maryville and Nodaway county soon for the purpose of gathering exhibits for the fair.

Governor Major was next called on and was heartily welcomed. He spoke of five measures that were passed during the last legislature that will be of great benefit to the rural communities, and also gave some statistics to show what had been done during the first year. He told of the law to aid the weak rural school districts so they might have an eight months term of school, also the one for the weak high schools, the law for the consolidated rural high schools, so the farm boy and girl may have the same advantages as those in the city, and also the one for the consolidated rural schools. Governor Major spoke very flatteringly of Nodaway county and Maryville, and also of the Normal school, and of the excellent people in this county. The speech of the governor was a brief one and was given the closest attention.

Following Governor Major, talks were made by Jewell Mayes, J. H. Brayton, M. V. Thralls, E. L. Newlon, N. H. Gentry, C. M. Barnes, Chris Hikle, W. D. McKee, J. Kelly Wright, E. C. Bennett, John I. Case and George W. Schweich. All of the visitors spoke of the cordial reception and entertainment, and also of the fine country we had here. The good roads that were gone over Wednesday morning on the auto tour were also mentioned.

The members of the board of agriculture were well pleased with Maryville and Nodaway county and also the genuine hospitality of our people. Many were the remarks that were heard from every one of the visitors on the hearty welcome. The purpose of the state board meeting was more for a get-acquainted meeting and good fellowship and to see Nodaway county. Mr. Bellows secured the meeting for Maryville and deserves great credit as every one of the members are loud in their praise of Mr. Bellows as host and of the cordial reception of Maryville and Nodaway people.

At the close of the banquet Mr. Bellows called on Hubert Corken, Dale Thompson and Grant Gates to arise so the diners might see the winners of the county corn show, and also the winners of the state corn show. The boys were warmly applauded. Corken is from Burlington Junction, and he won the acre-yield contest, his yield being 109 bushels. Thompson lives north of Maryville, and he won first for the best ten ears of corn, while Gates is from Ravenwood and was second in the acre-yield contest.

Those at the banquet were:

Many of the other members of the board also left this morning and a number left Wednesday night on the late Wabash.

The Afternoon Meeting.

The court house was filled to overflowing at the meeting held Wednesday afternoon. The governor began his speech at 2 p. m. to a large and appreciative audience. After his address he left for a tour of the country near Burlington Junction, accompanied by C. D. Bellows, George B. Baker, N. H. Gentry and John Parker, returning in time for the business session of the state board of agriculture at the Bellows country home at 5 p. m.

The governor gave an excellent talk and described the wondrous bounties of the grand old state of Missouri. He laid much stress upon the Missouri hen and the good roads movement in the state.

E. C. Bennett, state dairy commissioner, next gave an interesting talk on dairying, and laid particular stress on the co-operative farming movement.

Dean Mumford of the state agricultural college at Columbia followed with a short talk on the great good that the agricultural college was accomplishing, and some of the things which were being learned by the students in the way of field experiments.

THE GRIFFEY WILL

ESTATE VALUED AT $59,000 TO MOTHER AND CHILD.

NOTHING TO HUSBAND

In the Will of Mrs. Jessie Scott Griffey —Rumor Has It That It Will Be Contested.

The will of Mrs. Jessie Scott Griffey, who died a few weeks ago, was filed in probate court Wednesday. A few days before letters of administration were taken out by John T. Griffey, the husband, but since the will was produced the letters of administration will be cancelled.

The estate is a big one. Beside $15,000 in personal property, there is a great deal of real estate. To her mother, Mary J. Scott, is given the piano, bookcase, dresser, silverware, clothing, books and all household furniture and household and personal effects. The rest and remainder of the property, both real and personal and mixed of whatever kind, is left to the Gillam-Jackson Loan and Trust company of Maryville to be held in trust for the use and benefit of her one child and for the use and benefit of her mother, so long as she may live; that is, that said trustee shall pay over yearly the net income derived from said trust estate as follows: Three-fourths to her mother and one-fourth to her child until she is 25 years old, and at that time the estate to be given to her child.

The Gillam-Jackson Loan and Trust company was named as executor of the estate. The will was written April 11, 1914, and was witnessed by J. F. Colby and Martin A. Lewis.

It is rumored that the will may be contested by the husband.

AT TELEPHONE MEETING.

H. C. Todd of This City Says Private Phone Lines Best.

H. C. Todd, manager of the Hanamo Telephone company of this city, is in Kansas City in attendance at the annual meeting of the Missouri Telephone association. Mr. Todd, who is director of the National Independent Telephone association, is quoted by today's Kansas City Times as saying that he doesn't believe in government ownership of telephones.

"Under the American system of private ownership the telephones of this country are twice as efficiently managed and have three times the number of subscribers as in European countries where government ownership largely prevails. There is a still greater future before the telephone systems of America," said Mr. Todd.

Road Case Continued.

The road case for a road between Andrew and Nodaway counties in Hughes township was continued until the next term of county court. The petitioners want a road a mile and a half in distance and to be on the county line. The court ordered the surveyor to survey and mark out the road between Nodaway and Gentry counties, near Ravenwood. The road is a mile and a fourth in distance and also on the county line.

"MISTRESS MARY"

TO BE GIVEN AT EMPIRE ON MAY 19 AND 20.

FOR 20TH CENTURY CLUB

Over One Hundred of Our Young People to Take Part—The Story of the Play and the Cast.

"Mistress Mary," the pastoral opera in three acts to be presented at two performances, May 19 and 20, at the Empire theater, promises to be one of the best local productions ever seen here. Miss Margaret R. Martin of Chicago, who is the author of the book and music, has been in Maryville for several weeks directing the rehearsals of the play, which is to be given under the patronage of the Twentieth Century club.

Over one hundred young people will appear in the cast, and a partial list of those taking principal parts are:

Mistress Mary, Hazel Smith.
Merrie Bell, Amy Clark.
Betty Blue, Margaret Chilton.
Silverwings, Doris Goforth.
Sallie, Katherine Carpenter.
Minnie, Gertrude Wright.
Boy Blue, Harold Staples.
Tom, Dick and Harry, Glenn Goff, Clyde Hutton and Jesse Miller.
Postman, Paul Thompson.
Guardian, Mr. H. J. Becker.
Tony, Vern Pickens.

The Lambs chorus will no doubt prove to be one of the favorite ones of the entire production, and the small lads comprising this chorus are:

Willie, Forrest Holland.
Fluffy Ruffles, Donald Herndon.
Billiekins, Burdette Yeo.
Teddy R., William Gaugh.
Mignonette, Townsend Godsey.
Clover Blossom, Harold Miller.
Toddles, Robert Arnett.
Tiddledywinks, Donald Bellows.

The personnel of the entire cast will be ready to announce in a few days. A story of the opera follows.

The scene of act one of "Mistress Mary" is laid at Happy Valley Farm, owned by Madam Blue, and managed by her son, Boy Blue, who is a progressive rancher, more or less envied for his great success in sheep raising. He is in love with Mistress Mary, his head shepherdess, who is also his adopted sister, having been found by Mme. Blue when a baby, apparently a nameless waif. In the first act a chorus of Shepherds are refreshing themselves at a spring near the homestead when the postman arrives. He exchanges gossip with them, distributes the mail, and Boy Blue disperses them to the various duties of preparing for the Blue County Sheep Show, which is to be held at the farm the next day. Mary receives a letter telling her of her parentage and inheritance of a large fortune. She teases Boy Blue, and will not let him see the letter, then flirts openly with Tom, the "Black Sheep," a rival sheep rancher, who later finds this letter and determines to win her for his wife. Boy Blue calls a final "dress rehearsal" of his Trained Lambs, whose performances are the wonder of the county. This rehearsal proves an utter failure and the curtain descends upon general despair.

In the second act the scene is a forest on Happy Valley Farm at midnight. The Will o' Wisps dance, flashing their lanterns about, the Frog Orchestra holds a rehearsal, finally breaking up with a rollicking game of leap-frog. The Katydids sing, and the Owl hoots. Mary comes down out of an old hollow tree where she has been hiding, and tells her dream and its strange warning. Again she hears a strain of Boy Blue's song, and seems to realize her love for him, now that he is threatened with some unknown catastrophe. From her hollow tree she hears the three rival Shepherds. Tom, Dick and Harry, plotting to upset all Boy Blue's plans by giving his Trained Lambs a stupefying drug. The Wood Sprites also overhear this plot, and after the Shepherds leave the woods the Sprites appear to Mary and give her a Magic Censer, which shall revive the Lambs at the proper time. Mary is delighted and joins the fairies in a gay dance.

Act three opens on the upper meadow, en fete, the morning of the County Show. Boy Blue, tired out with the night's watch, has fallen asleep against a haystack. He is awakened by Mary, his sister Betty and her guest, Merrie Bell, who lead him a chase about the haystack, and finally run off without getting a glimpse of them. The Shepherd Maids tell him that the Trained Lambs are in a deadly stupor from which nothing can arouse them, and in the midst of their despair the neighboring Shepherds, villagers and farming people arrive, and the dancing and festivities begin. Boy Blue calls for his Trained Lambs, who are dragged in, still in a stupor, by the disconsolate Shepherd Maids. Nothing avails to revive the Lambs, and the situation is desperate when Mary enters with the Magic Censer, which "works like a charm," and the performance of the Lambs is a brilliant success. Mary reveals the conspiracy, and the rival Shepherds, Tom, Dick and Harry, are disgraced. Betty and Merrie Bell plead for them, and they are forgiven. Then Mary's guardian announces her name and good fortune, and she plights her troth to Boy Blue.

DAN BAKER A CANDIDATE.

Files Late Wednesday Afternoon for Recorder—Is Well Known Over the County.

Dan R. Baker, editor of the Skidmore New Era and the Graham Record, filed Wednesday with County Clerk George W. Demott as a candidate for recorder, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 4. Mr. Baker is well known over the county, and it is predicted that he will win.

Mr. Baker is a native of Nodaway county and was born two miles south of Skidmore, July 1, 1864. He secured his early education in the public schools, and also attended Amity college, at College Springs, Ia., and the Southwestern normal school at Shenandoah, Ia. On completing his education he engaged in teaching school, and for two years was principal of the schools at Elmo. He became connected with the Elmo Register in an editorial capacity, in which he was engaged for the following five years, at the end of which period he engaged in the insurance business at Maryville for about eighteen months. He was then chosen to the position of cashier of the Skidmore bank, to which he gave three years of efficient service. At the end of that time he relinquished the position, and going to St. Louis he became bookkeeper in the office of the Willard Case Hardwood Lumber company, where he remained until the spring of 1905, when he was sent by the company to Portland, Ore. He represented the interests of the company there two years and was then transferred to San Francisco until 1908, when he returned to Nodaway county and purchased the Skidmore New Era and established the Graham Record. Mr. Baker is an able newspaper man, and his papers are always welcomed.

AGREES TO MAKE A NUMBER OF IMPROVEMENTS.

FLOOR AND SIDEWALKS

Also to Raise Grade Over Track on North Depot Street—New Crossings Over Burlington Tracks.

The Wabash railroad, according to Mr. Greenland of Moberly, superintending engineer, will make a number of improvements which the city has been after for some time. Mr. Greenland was in Maryville Wednesday and was in conference with Mayor U. S. Wright. He came here to make a report and also recommendations of what the company should do.

Mr. Greenland's recommendations are that the Wabash refloor their bridge on Mulberry street with a new floor, to build sidewalk approaches to that bridge, and on Walnut street to do away with the steps on the north side of the railroad track and make it a sloping grade for a sidewalk. One important recommendation of Mr. Greenland is for the raise of the grade for twenty feet back over the Wabash track on North Depot street, so as to do away with the steep incline as it is now.

The report will be sent in, and it is expected that the work will be done within the near future.

Mayor Wright has also been after the Burlington for new crossings over their tracks on East First street, and has received word that two new crossings will be built just as soon as they can get to it, probably within the next month or so.

Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

ORDERS FOR MILITIA.

Instructions Are Sent to Various Commanders in State by Adjutant-General John B. O'Meara.

Adjt-General John B. O'Meara Wednesday gave out information to the several commanders of the National Guard relative to the organization of the National Guard in case there should be a call by the United States.

Each regiment of infantry will consist of three battalions of four companies each, with 150 men to each company. There will be five regimental officers, five battalion and staff officers and twenty-eight band members, making a total of 1,836.

In Missouri there are five regiments which would make about 10,000 men for the service in case there was a call to move. The officers are requested to recruit their companies up to the required limit.

The order issued Wednesday is regarded as a preparation or expectation of a call for service in Mexico.

The adjutant-general made known his instructions by means of a circular letter forwarded to each station where there are National Guard branches. He suggested a recruiting detail for each company, one sergeant and one corporal, and in addition two privates for each battalion and one sergeant, two corporals and twelve privates for each regiment. Such a suggestion is in keeping with regular army rules governing the formation of military bodies.

The adjutant-general says in part: "This information received from the chief of the division of military affairs is furnished for your guidance in case it is necessary to call out the organized militia of the state into the service of the United States and to recruit it full war strength. All organizations, unless otherwise specified, will be recruited to the statutory strength."

This order is in keeping with a similar one issued by the war department several days ago.

HELP FOR RURAL SCHOOLS.

Missouri Superintendents to Consider County Unit Plan.

The county superintendents of the state convened May 4 in annual convention at Jefferson City for a general discussion of the educational situation in Missouri. Rural education received the greatest share of attention. In general, the cities are pretty well supplied with high schools and high school facilities, but there are many rural sections entirely isolated from secondary education.

Many county superintendents in the state and many widely known educators were present. County Superintendent Oakerson was in attendance. The work of advancing rural education has not only been the subject of some wholesome legislation in the recent past, but the state teachers' association, the state university and the state normal schools all have been working in the same direction. So strong has the move for bettering educational facilities in the rural districts grown that even the politicians have commenced taking notice and trimming their sails accordingly.

What is known as the county unit system has been indorsed generally. It provides for a county board to look after the various country schools very much as the county courts are presumed to look after the various road districts and help those least able to help themselves. A special committee, composed of Dr. W. W. Charters of the state university, J. A. Robeson of Liberty, J. T. McDonald of Cape Girardeau, Miss Frankie Connell of Hannibal, assistant state superintendent of public schools, submitted a report favoring the county unit.

This system really means that the county must vote as a whole on a school tax and a board apportion the same among the various districts. In this way a weak district could be helped by the stronger ones. It is stated that this system would shortly place a high school within six miles of every child in the state of Missouri. Twelve states already have adopted the county unit system.

W. C. Frank left Thursday morning for Kansas City.

An organ recital of nuptial numbers was played by Miss Hilda Lahr. Miss Lahr also accompanied Miss May Corwin, who sang D'Hardelot's "Because" and "O Promise Me," by DeKoven. Miss Lahr played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" for the entrance of the bridal party, Schumann's "Traumerei" and "Melody of Love," by Engelman, during the ceremony, and Mendelssohn's wedding march as a recessional.

The bride looked very winsome in a handsome suit of blue crepe with which she wore a white lace waist. She had a hat and gloves to match, and wore a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley and roses. Miss Grace Sturm was her sister's bridesmaid, and was gowned in a tango colored suit. She wore a hat of white lace with light blue streamers and had a corsage bouquet of white sweet peas. They were met at Arkoe by members of the family who had followed them in a car, and a party of friends went down on the morning train to administer the customary shower of rice. WEDDING AT WHITE HOUSE

Miss Eleanor Wilson and Secretary McAdoo Marry.

FEW OFFICIALS ARE PRESENT.

Ceremony in Blue Room Is Simple Affair—No Press Representatives. Bracelet of Diamonds Set in Platinum Senate's Gift to Bride.

Washington, May 7.—The White House was the scene of another wedding when Miss Eleanor Randolph Wilson, youngest daughter of the president, and Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo were married today.

The affair was simple and private, the only officials present being the vice president and members of the cabinet. There were no newspaper representatives present, as at previous weddings. The wedding company comprised less than a hundred.

Rev. Sylvester W. Beach of the First Presbyterian church at Princeton, N. J., who performed the ceremony, officiated at the Wilson-Sayre wedding at the White House. President Wilson gave away the bride and the groom was attended by some of his near friends as groomsmen and best man.

Miss Wilson's six girl chums, who would have been her bridesmaids had the wedding been an elaborate one, were guests at the White House. They are: Miss Helen Hunter of Portsmouth, Va.; Miss Henrietta Stadelman of Wilmington, Del.; Miss Marjorie Brown of Atlanta, Ga.; Miss Susan Fine and Miss Elizabeth Duffield of Princeton, N. J., and Mrs. Charles Kellogg of Athens, Pa.

The ceremony took place in the Blue room, the scenee of so many gala events, with its handsome furnishings, and the profusions of flowers which the White House conservatory yields.

Bride Is Tall and Slender.

Both of the contracting parties to the wedding have become well known here during the present administration. Mrs. McAdoo is the brunette of the Wilson daughters, twenty-four years old, with such an expressive face that most people call her handsome. She is tall and slender, her head is well shaped, her eyes are blue, and when she smiles—or better still, when she laughs, which is often—she shows her fine teeth. Her hair is a shade darker than her mother's and she wears it in a coil wound round her head. She follows the modes in dress, without exaggeration.

The bride was born in Middletown, Conn., where her father was a professor at Wesleyan university. At fifteen years of age she went to Raleigh, N. C., to a boarding school. Later on, while her sister, Margaret, went in seriously for vocal study, and another sister was engaged in social settlement work in the Kensington (Pa.) mill district, the bride began her art studies in Philadelphia, inheriting her ability and taste in that direction from her mother.

Fond of Outdoor Life.

Life at the capital opened up a program of events which the bride has engaged to the fullest. Most of the White House week-end guests have been former associates of the Wilson girls and have joined in their social activities here. The White House tennis court, famous during the Roosevelt regime, fitted in perfectly in the Wilson girls' home pleasure scheme. The bride plays a good game of tennis, though equally devoted to horseback riding. She is also fond of walks, often joining the president in his jaunts, although her walking partner in the last spring has been her future husband. Secretary McAdoo has tramped with her many afternoons after his office hours through the uptown streets and suburbs.

Bridegroom Is Fifty.

The bridegroom, Secretary William G. McAdoo, was born in Marietta, Ga., fifty years ago. He was only twenty-one when admitted to the bar, after his studies at the University of Tennessee. He practiced his profession in Chattanooga for eight years, then moved to New York. There he conceived the project with which his name is identified—the Hudson river tunnel system, linking New York and Jersey City. Mr. McAdoo was president of the system from 1902 to 1913.

Mr. McAdoo was one of the "original Wilson men," and as vice chairman of the Democratic national committee and as acting chairman during much of the 1812 campaign, the acquaintance between the two, fated to be bound together later by family ties, has had no breaks from its inception. Mr. McAdoo's first wife died about two years ago. She was Sarah Houston Fleming of Chattanooga, Tenn. Of his six children, three sons and three daughters, the two oldest are married.

Secretary McAdoo is both young in appearance and in temperament. He goes in for all sports. He rides, plays tennis, and his manner with his sons and daughters is quite like that of a big brother. When he began the last winter to go out with his daughter, Miss Nona, his attentions to her and to Miss Eleanor Wilson seemed just the same to the casual observer.

Senate's Wedding Gift.

Gifts from friends continued to arrive. The senate's wedding gift, a bracelet of diamonds set in platinum, costing $1,000, was sent to the White House, with a letter from Senator Martine, chairman of the committee selected to choose the present.

"My Dear Miss Wilson," the senator wrote, "on behalf of the senate of the United States, I have the pleasure to present to you the accompanying gift. We tender our best wishes to you for a long and happy life."

The New Jersey congressional delegation sent to the White House its gift, a silver serving tray, engraved in rose, bearing the initials "E. R. W."

Hopkins Wants a Rest Room.

Hopkins is after a rest room, and it is now planned to ask the city to donate the lots just north of the Ewing barber shop on which can be erected a building fully adequate to meet every requirement. With city water the sanitary condition is now easily solved, and it is thought $1,000 or possibly less will build and equip the room very nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Karr went to Barnard Thursday morning to visit relatives.

Mother's Day

May 10th is set aside by the whole of North America to honor the universal Motherhood. Everyone sends flowers to Mother; and in her honor, flowers are worn and sent broadcast with their cheering message. "Wear in Mother's Memory a flower white" and "For Mother at home, a flower bright."

Send Mother a nice box of flowers or a beautiful plant, any flower—or your Mother's favorite for Mother's Day.
